The Global Kids Activity Deck

The cards are divided into 5 categories that offer a variety of activities to #OpenTheirWorld throughout the year!

Create unique arts & crafts, like Maasai-Inspired Beadwork from Kenya and batik art from Indonesia.

Play games, such as Sapo from Peru and Mancala from Egypt. And try dances moves, like the Thumka from India.

Eat and learn about food! Invite friends for Apple Tea (Turkey) and use your senses to explore spices from around the globe.

Celebrate special days with fun traditions. Make a German Schultüte (school cone) for the first day of school and a Diwali lantern for India's Festival of Lights.

Help Out by serving our planet and people. Track water use, reduce waste, do good deeds, and more!

GLOBAL KIDS ACTIVITIES

❖ Global Kids Stations

Great for learning centers, early finishers, indoor recess, free-choice time, small group and independent projects, home connections, and more!

Preparation

- Print our free organizers (pages 5-10) for students to record and reflect on the activities they complete. There is one for each category, plus a final checklist.
- Print the world map (page 11) for students to locate and color the countries representing the activities they complete. Optional map activities can include adding Antarctica, identifying the continents, labeling and coloring the oceans, drawing and labeling the equator, reviewing the compass rose, and creating a map key.
- Choose the station activities. You may want to pick one activity from each of the categories, or you may want to offer several activities from just one of the categories. The options are many!
- Plan the days, times, and how students will rotate through the stations (i.e., independently, partners, small groups).

Introduce the Stations

- Distribute the world map and activity organizer(s).
- Introduce each activity. Show how and where the card and materials will be stored.
- Model each activity or leave a sample of a finished product for reference.
- Answer any clarifying questions from the students before they begin.

Station Rotations

- Students rotate through the stations until everyone has completed the different activities.
- Switch out the cards for future rotations to keep the stations fun and new.

Have kids share their discoveries and/or finished products with their peers and families.

❖ Global Kids Secret Mission

Great for home or remote learning projects.

- Choose 2-3 cards to put in a "Secret Mission" envelope for each student. Or you can have the students randomly choose cards - from specific categories or from the whole deck – to put in their envelopes.
- Students complete their "secret mission" multicultural projects and choose how to share their discoveries and/or projects with their classmates. They could create a video, Google slide show, poster, food dish, craft, or any other creative idea you or they think of.

❖ Recommended Supplemental Resources

- world wall map
- globe
- atlas
- global learning websites, including our own Globe Trotting' Kids website
- related books, music, photographs, country or cultural artifacts
- guest visitors from the related countries/cultures
